Clark Atlanta University

Compliance Office

Lucille H. Maugé
Chief Compliance Officer
Compliance is…

• The avoidance of fraud, abuse and institutional mismanagement
• Adherence to institutional policies and federal requirements
• “Knowing what to do and doing what is right”
Why is the University implementing a compliance program?

• Clark Atlanta University’s Board of Trustees recognized the risk potential in managing its financial, operational, and reputation-related risk, and identified the need for a stronger system of checks and balances, where every employee is held accountable for his or her job responsibilities and actions.

• As such, the compliance program CAU is implementing is broader in scope than the program required by the compliance agreement CAU entered into with the Department of Energy.
Do other colleges and universities have similar programs?

• More and more universities are realizing the positive impact a compliance program can have on their schools.

• Institutions are creating these programs to ensure that their employees are properly handling and protecting their financial resources, operations, strategies, and reputation.
