Overview

ATLANTA (January 14, 2010) -- Clark Atlanta University will hold a community forum today to dialogue about the university’s role in providing disaster relief for the people of Haiti in the aftermath of an earthquake that struck Port-au-Prince, Haiti on Tuesday.

CAU faculty, staff, and students will today meet on the university’s campus to discuss action plans that will contribute to sustaining the disaster relief efforts being launched to assist the Haitian people.

WHAT: Clark Atlanta University Community Forum on Haitian Relief

WHO: Dr. Carlton E. Brown, president, Clark Atlanta University and CAU faculty, staff and students

WHERE: Auditorium of the Thomas W. Cole Jr. Research Center for Science and Technology, on the campus of Clark Atlanta University.

WHEN: The forum begins promptly at 5:00 p.m.

WHY: CAU’s objectives for the forum are to build awareness of the emergency situation in Haiti, to express the CAU community’s solidarity with the Haitian people, and to propose and discuss university-led relief efforts to assist Haiti in coordination with established disaster relief agencies.

INTERVIEW OPPORTUNITIES

Carlton E. Brown, president, who can speak about the university’s disaster relief plans and humanitarian efforts for the people of Haiti.

Media Contacts: Larry Calhoun (404) 880-6040, lcalhoun@cau.edu
Jennifer Jiles (404)-880-8357, jjiles@cau.edu

###