

News Brief

Office of Marketing and Communications

U.S. ARMY WRAPS UP HEROES AMONG US BLACK HISTORY MONTH TOUR

Traveling Photo Exhibit Makes Final Stop at Clark Atlanta University

ATLANTA, GA (March 2008) - The United States Army wrapped up its HEROES AMONG US Black History Month Tour at Clark Atlanta University last month following stops in Columbia, Baltimore, and Baton Rouge. HEROES AMONG US is a compelling collection of black and white photos honoring African-American Soldiers, past and present, and chronicles their history in the U.S. Army. The photo exhibit also showcases legendary African-American civil rights, entertainment, sports and education pioneers.

The Army hosted HEROES AMONG US opening receptions in each city and honored local soldiers for their service in Iraq and/or Afghanistan. Special guests were pictured with the soldier honorees at the HEROES AMONG US opening reception at Clark Atlanta University.

Pictured from left to right in front row: Dr. Raymon Crawford, member 100 Black Men of America, DeKalb County Chapter; Lieutenant Colonel Twala Mathis, Commander Atlanta Recruiting Battalion; Command Sergeant Major (ret.) Michele Jones, keynote speaker; John Hammond, president and CEO, 100 Black Men of America, Inc.; and Dr. Carlton E. Brown, executive vice president and provost, Clark Atlanta University.

For more information about the U.S. Army's valuable career and training opportunities, please visit www.goarmy.com.

###

Media Contact: Sonya Lewis
Sonya.lewis@carolhwilliams.com
708.439.0326 (mobile)