Position Title: Non-Tenure Track Instructor/Assistant Professor of Mass Media Arts (2006-2007)
Department: Mass Media Arts
Reports To: Chairperson, Mass Media Arts

General Function: Teach courses and participate in the development of the Electronic, Film, New Media concentration within the Mass Media Arts curriculum

Examples of Duties and Responsibilities:
- Teach four courses each semester in areas including Radio/TV writing and reporting, survey of media, and mass communication research
- Advise students
- Engage in an active program of scholarship/professional and creative activities
- Provide service to the department, university and profession

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:
- Strong conceptual and historical grasp of contemporary issues in the intersecting worlds of radio, television, film, and new media
- Successful teaching at the university level teaching and/or comparable professional experience either in radio programming and production or television/documentary/video/film production
- Ability to work with professional colleagues reflecting a variety of approaches to communication

Education: Master’s degree in appropriate discipline required, Ph.D. in appropriate discipline preferred.

Years of Experience Required:
- Two to five years of teaching at the university level teaching and/or five to ten years comparable professional experience either in radio programming and production or television/documentary/video/film production

About the University:
Clark Atlanta University is situated in the metropolitan, media-rich state’s capital of Atlanta. The university has nearly 5,000 students, with the Department of Mass Media Arts having about one-fifth of the student body. Mass Media Arts is in the Division of Communication Arts. In addition to the student-run FM station, the Division boasts a PBS radio station, and a cable access station. The Teleproduction Digital Laboratory provides a stellar technology-enhanced learning environment for the students. The Department of Mass Media Arts offers concentrations in journalism, radio/television/film, and public relations.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of quality teaching, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cheryl Renée Gooch, Associate Dean, Division of Communication Arts, Clark Atlanta University, 223 James P. Brawley Drive, S.W., Atlanta, GA. 30314. Screening of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Clark Atlanta University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. The university provides equal employment opportunities to all faculty, staff, students and applicants without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, marital status, mental or physical disability, military or status as a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran in compliance with applicable federal and state laws that pertain to nondiscrimination. Such action shall include, but is not limited to, employment, promotion, demotion or transfer; recruitment or recruitment advertising; layoff or separation; rates of pay or other forms of compensation and selection for training programs.