The Department of Counseling at Clark Atlanta University invites applications for two tenure track counseling positions at the assistant professor level -- one in school counseling and one in community counseling.

Duties and Responsibilities:
Primary responsibilities will include teaching core School and Community Counseling courses, conducting scholarly activities, supervision of practicum/internship master’s students, advising master’s students, faculty committee responsibilities, community service, and continuing professional development. In addition, applicant is expected to teach basic counseling skills courses and related courses.

Qualifications:
- Earned doctorate in Counselor Education or a closely related discipline.
- Experience working in K-12 settings
- Graduate level teaching experience and supervision of master level students.
- Demonstrated potential for effective teaching.
- Demonstrated potential to carry out research.
- Demonstrated ability to work successfully with a diverse population of students, faculty, staff, and community members.
- Demonstrated experience working in a collaborative setting.
- Ability to contribute to department initiatives.
- Ability to become a certified and/or licensed counselor in the state of Georgia.

Date of Appointment:
August 2007

Salary Range:
The salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Procedure:
Review of applications will begin December 1, 2006 and will continue until finalists are chosen. To apply for either position, send cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above, curriculum vitae, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references to the address listed below. An official or certified copy of the transcripts will be required prior to any interview as a finalist for this position.

Dr. Jill M. Thompson
Search Committee Chair
Clark Atlanta University
223 James P. Brawley Drive, S.W.
Atlanta, GA  30314
www.cau.edu

Clark Atlanta University values diversity and is an AA/EEO/ADA Employer