

FAQs – Remote Learning Instruction

3/17/20

Q 1.) Will remote instruction be offered for the remainder of the semester?

A 1.) Yes, all classes will be taught via remote instruction for the remainder of the semester beginning Monday, March 23, 2020 and ending on Friday, May 8, 2020.

Q 2.) What are students expected to do since Spring Break was extended to Friday, March 20, 2020?

A 2.) Students are encouraged not to return to campus. Students who lived on campus in residence halls must remove their belongings from the residence halls by 9:00 p.m., Monday, March 23, 2020.

Faculty are preparing remote instruction delivery capabilities during the extended Spring Break. No formal instruction will take place until Monday, March 23, 2020. However, faculty members will be in contact with their students no later than Friday, March 20, 2020.

Q 3.) Will remote classes be offered at the same time as regularly scheduled classes?

A 3.) Yes, all remote classes will be offered at the same time as regularly scheduled Spring 2020 classes. Some faculty may conduct virtual class meetings via Zoom during the regularly scheduled class meeting times. These sessions will be recorded for students to access via Canvas.

Q 4.) How will I be able to communicate with my professors remotely?

A 4.) Faculty members will communicate their remote office hours and availability during their remote instruction classes. Students may contact their professor via their CAU email.

Q 5.) How will I provide assignments and papers?

A 5.) Your professors will provide you with instructions regarding assignments and papers.

Q 6.) Can International students return to their home country and complete their academic work remotely?

A 6.) International students will be able to complete all coursework remotely. Accommodations for international students working in different time zones are being implemented including, but not limited to, access to recorded lectures through CANVAS. Students should check with their professors beginning Monday, March 23, 2020 for more details for how the class can be facilitated.

Q 7.) Will there be any in-person classes between now and May 8, 2020?

A.7.) No, there will be no in-person classes between now and May 8, 2020. All classes for the remainder of Spring semester 2020 (March 23, 2020 – May 8, 2020) will be via remote instruction.

Q 8.) Will time zone differences be handled?

A 8.) All remote classes will be held during the Eastern Standard Time zone. However, class sessions held via Zoom will be recorded with links uploaded into CANVAS to be available to you at other times.

Q 9.) How will internships, practicums, and student teaching experiences be handled?

A 9.) Accrediting bodies have made some allowances for these areas. Please check with your School Dean or Director of Field Practicum for more specific information.

Q 10.) Who should I contact if I have technology needs?

A 10.) Please contact the Office of Student Services and Campus Life at (404) 880-8040.
