

CLARK ATLANTA UNIVERSITY SPEECH COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE ARTS

Position Title:	Visiting Assistant/Associate Professor of Communication Studies
Department:	Theatre and Communication Studies
Reports To:	Dr. Eve Graves

The following statements are intended to describe the general nature and level of work to be performed and are not intended to be construed as an exhaustive list of all responsibilities, duties and skills required of personnel so classified. All duties listed are essential functions for the position. It is understood that other related duties may be assigned.

General Function (Description):

Clark Atlanta University is seeking applicants for a full-time, Visiting Assistant or Associate faculty appointment in the field of communication studies starting August 2025. Rank and salary will be based on qualifications. Applicants must have a strong commitment to teaching in a HBCU setting and the ability to work effectively with others in a collegial environment dedicated to student learning. Successful applicant must bring vision and commitment to building a student experience linked to the growing job markets.

The successful applicant will be a generalist, preferably with a specialization in Intercultural/International Communication or Health Communication, who is prepared to teach across a broad range of communication courses for both majors and non-majors at the undergraduate level.

Duties and Responsibilities:

Candidates should have the interest and ability to teach communication theory and communication research courses at both the introductory and advanced levels. While most classes are offered face-to-face, the University will offer classes through other modalities including hybrid and fully online. Faculty may have part of their teaching load assigned to these other modalities. The position also requires advising students, providing service to the university community, assisting with departmental activities, and continuing scholarly growth and development. Applicants should be capable of advising our competitive Forensics Team.

This position requires excellence in: teaching; academic and professional advising; research and publication; and service to the department, the university, and the academy.

Preferred Skills, Characteristics, and Qualifications:

- Demonstrated potential for continued and substantive scholarly research and publication in the field of communication studies;
- Demonstrated ability to teach across the discipline and to incorporate technological innovation into classroom lectures;
- Demonstrated record of professional achievement;
- Demonstrated ability to contribute to the diversity and teaching excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service;
- Demonstrated desire to teach and work in a multicultural environment.

Minimum Hiring Standards:

Education	Ph.D. in Communication Studies or related field
Years of Experience	Five years of teaching experience in higher education are preferred, but not required. NCA membership at the time of hire is required.

Clark Atlanta University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer